How to Convince Any Casting Director They'd Be Stupid Not to Select You?

SHOW YOUR ACTING SKILLS

Nowadays being an actor is not only a freelance job but a personal business. Taking roles in films and especially in big productions needs to be present and active in the film industries. Thanks to social media, every actor needs to show their acting skills and reminding the casting directors of their skills, passion, and presence to be part of film productions. It is not a one-man job, you need to have good contacts, a professional agent and as the most important one, you need to show what you can deliver to a film project as an actor.

YOU DESERVE TO BE SEEN!

"The showreel is a true reflection of our dimensions, acting skills and talents as actors. I am a professional actress, have been acting professionally for almost 10 years. I have played in major films with Oscar-winning directors such as Ron Howard, Uli Edel and Neil Jordan. I have also done commercials, tv series and short-films. Lived and acted in London for 5 years and still travelling back for work.

Thanks to MAGEPICTURES who edited my showreel I was selected to do many castings and mastered commercial roles where the selection was based merely on the showreel.

Kata Sarbó, actress
